NEWS RELEASE

East Africa Metals Wins BC Securities Commission's Canaco Hearing

Vancouver, BC, August 8, 2013 – East Africa Metals Inc. ("East Africa Metals") (TSXV:EAM) today announced that it has won a hearing before the British Columbia Securities Commission (the "BCSC") regarding certain infill drill result disclosures made by a predecessor company, Canaco Resources Inc. (the "Company"), in December 2010. Following an 11-day hearing in January 2013, a three-member panel unanimously agreed that the Company and its directors acted appropriately with regard to its disclosures.

"This decision represents a complete vindication of our disclosure decisions," said Andrew Lee Smith, East Africa Metals' Interim CEO. "It is unfortunate that we have been subjected to a misguided, expensive, and wasteful regulatory process for the past 32 months. But now that the distraction is finally over, we will be able to focus all of our attention on advancing East Africa Metals' exploration efforts for the benefit of our shareholders."

As expected, the hearing was focused primarily on whether the infill drill results constituted a "material change" and therefore were required to be disclosed immediately. The BCSC panel agreed with the Company's position that the infill drill results were not material and that the Company acted appropriately in granting certain stock options prior to the disclosure.

Said the panel in its written decision: "In our opinion, there is no evidence that the facts available to Canaco and its board in early December 2010 would have led them to believe that a reasonable investor would expect the drill results to have a significant effect on Canaco's market price."

The panel concluded: "We find that the evidence does not prove that the drill results would reasonably be expected to significantly affect the market price or value of the Canaco shares. Accordingly, we find that the drill results were not a material change or a material fact relating to Canaco. We dismiss the allegations in the Notice of Hearing."

The Company's position was previously set out in a detailed letter sent to Paul Bourque, Executive Director of the BCSC on April 20, 2012, days before the issuance of the Notice of Hearing. BCSC staff, prior to the issuance of the Notice of Hearing, declined repeated invitations to interview Mr. Smith, who was the Qualified Person that signed off on the disclosures.

The Company disclosed on April 24, 2012 that the staff of the BCSC was issuing a Notice of Hearing on the matter. The Company originally disclosed in a prospectus dated March 15, 2011 that it had received inquiries from regulators on this issue.
